(a) whether Government would consider the need of sick fishing units for special and specific dispensation for grant of charter permits; and

(b) whether it is a fact that liquidity of resources is the main requirement of sick fishing units?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF FOOD PROCESSING INDUSTRIES (SHRI TARUN GOGOI): (a) The basic objectives for grant of Permits to entrepreneurs for chartering foreign fishing vessels are the following:

(i) To establish the abundance and distribution of fishery resources in deep seas in the Indian EEZ;

(ii) To assess suitable craft and gear for economic operation;

(iii) Transfer of technology;

(iv) To enlarge deep sea fishing fleet on ownership basis; and

(v) To establish overseas market for non-conventional fish.

This policy was never meant to be a rehabilitation measure for the sick units. Further, the Government is not entertaining any applications for grant of fresh Charter Permits. However, Government entertains applications from entrepreneurs for grant of permission for joint ventures, leasing and test fishing in deep sea fishing sector.

(b) While liquidity of resources could be one of the problems of the sick fishing units, an FAO study has indicated that conversion of a number of existing trawlers for diversified fishing and re-training of the operatives for diversification would help in rehabilitating the sick deep sea fishing industry. A Technics Committee has been set up by the Ministry of Food Processing Industries to examine in detail the causes of the sickness of the deep sea fishing industry and to suggest remedial measures.
